The tracks for a 500 and a t340 are unfortunately not the same. Finding a set of 340 tracks is near impossible these days and pricey if you do find a set. Not really sure on the practicality of ...

I have a chance to buy a T340 with the Drott 4 in 1. $1500 might take it home. Won't steer, but I've researched that pretty heavily and am hoping an adjustment will make it usable. I do ...

Wonder what you all think about the t340 ? I think it's a tracked Farmall h . Good with a loader in soft ground, marginal with blade in clay, great in snow work .

Tag is in rough shape with only 2 rivets holding it on. S/N reads t340 - 3259, does anyone know its year of birth? thanks 4 any help.

I find I need to split the track on my T-340 - I've owned it since ~1983, and have gradually improved it over time. I finally found out how to properly adjust the steering brakes and snapped off ...

Picked up a IH T-340A with a Drott loader setup. The serial number plate appears to be missing, so I can't pin down an exact year. It has 5 roller racks so I believe it is a 340A. Seems to be ...

Just like many, I am in the market for a &quot;good&quot; set of chains for my t340. I went and looked at a machine that has good height at the rails but the pins and bushings are well worn by ...
